AUSTRALIAN ORGANIC CERTIFICATION BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENT

Anitone Pty Ltd receives approval from the ACO Certification Ltd, as follows.

On the 10th July 2023, Anitone Pty Ltd, the manufacturers of Anitone, became a registered product, as a Certified Operation with ACO Certification Ltd. The scope of certification; processor and allowed inputs, under the grouping of livestock, production and materials.

Anitone are incredibly proud of this recent acknowledgement, as it demonstrates the company's commitment to producing and delivering a high quality, all-natural product made with the best of intentions, for the purpose of alleviating stress, balancing animal nutrition and stimulating appetite in all animals large or small.

Now into our second decade of operation, we say with confidence that we understand animals and our customer's needs. As a business we will continue to develop the Anitone product, ensuring we remain compliant with all certifications and accreditations as we now move to a new stage of growth and expand our R&D focus towards adding to our product portfolio, for the benefit of all animals and their owners.

Over the coming period you will begin to see the ACO label added to the Anitone packaging.

If you would like to discuss our recent certification or learn more about the Anitone product, we welcome the opportunity to talk with you at your convenience.
